Production Of Live Polio Vaccine Approved By Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Public Health Service today issued a license for the manufacture of the live, oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin for use in preventing one of three types of polio.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry emphasized today provides immunity only against type 1 polio. "Therefore," he said, "it is of the highest importance that vaccinations continue with the Salk vaccine which is the only weapon available today to provide protection against all three types of polio."

The manufacturing license was issued to Pfizer, Ltd., Sandwich, England. The vaccine will be marketed in this country by Chas. Pfizer & Co. Inc., of New York.

Type 1 polio has been responsible in recent years for between 60 and 70 per cent of all paralytic cases in the United States, Dr. Terry said.

He said he expected that a license for production of type II Sabin vaccine would be issued in the near future but that it would be several months before a type III license would be forthcoming.

Terry announced that the Public Health Service is purchasing 500,000 doses of the type I oral vaccine to be held in reserve for use in event of an epidemic anywhere in the country. The government will pay nine cents a dose, the announcement said.

The surgeon general said he understood that Pfizer expects to produce and make available for use 50 million doses of type I Sabin vaccine before the start of the 1962 polio season next spring.

Terry said: "The Public Health Service will continue its efforts to promote the widest possible use of the Salk vaccine. When the full series of oral vaccine becomes available, we will also help in its promotion."

Salk vaccine, which has helped to cut polio cases sharply since it was introduced, is administered by injection.

The Public Health Service set these requirements before the government's stock of Sabin type vaccine will be made available for epidemics.

At least three cases of type I polio in a community within a month, of which two have been confirmed to be type I by laboratory analysis.

Hijacked Plane Is Returned To Miami

MIAMI (UPI) — A hijacked Eastern Air Lines prop jet Electra was brought back to the United States Wednesday by the same crew which took it to Havana at gunpoint July 24.

The pilot, Capt. William E. Buchanan, said on his return here the Cuban government appeared to be "quite concerned" over recent attempts to steal American passenger planes by hijackers.

Buchanan, quoted Cuba's minister of aviation, who signed the release for the $3.2 million airplane, as saying: "Anyone who would do this is 'quite concerned'."

The 11-man team of mechanics and crewmen was sent to Havana to retrieve the big plane and reported it was in excellent condition.

"It looked as if no one had touched a switch," Buchanan said. "Every paper we left in it was there."

BERLIN (UPI) — Britain and France followed the American lead today in bolstering their military forces in Berlin and Germany.

At the same time, the East Germans disclosed that 2-million members of the Communist Youth Organization would be mobilized "voluntarily."

The twin military moves on either side of the scaled East-West Berlin border came as the Western Allies delivered stinging protest notes to the Soviet Union over the Communists' illegal actions in this crisis-torn city. The notes warned the Russians that such actions can have grave consequences.

Earlier, the West Berlin police reported the defection of 10 uniformed members of the Communist East German people's police and two members of the Red workers' militia during the past two nights.

Mobilization of the Communist youths in the East Zone of Germany will reinforce the ranks of the 400,000-man "people's army," the "people's police," and the workers' militia already involved in the Red line in the cold war contest for Berlin.

The British and French moves followed a decision by the United States to increase the size of its Army, Navy and Air Force through recall of reserves, lengthening terms of service and retention of certain key personnel, American troop strength in Europe is to be bolstered.

Five of the people's police—"Vopos"—defected in a group, carrying their pistols and submachine guns with them. West Berlin police said.

The others apparently defected singly, but no details were issued as to how or where they crossed the border.

In other developments of the Berlin situation: —Armed Communist police arrested members of a British military patrol in a harassing action along the East-West Berlin border this morning. The men were released unharmed after questioning and not long afterwards British Ambassador Sir Christopher Steel drove into East Berlin in a three-car convoy and toured the border for 25 minutes without incident in a show-the-flag demonstration. The Union Jack flew from his car.

—East German workers began tearing up the rails of two of the six elevated train line the Communist.

WHEN THE TIDE TURNS

WHEN Newburgh, New York, recently announced its decision to secede from the "Welfare State," and eliminate "free-loaders" from relief rolls of every kind, state and federal authorities were not even slightly disturbed.

They believed, as they had every right to believe, that the overwhelming majority of the people of Newburgh, as well as in every other town and city in the United States, want all the state and federal aid they can get no matter how much of it is wasted. They are finding out they were wrong.

The youthful City manager of Newburgh is carrying his message throughout the nation. He appeared in Memphis last week-end as the principal speaker at a meeting of municipal leaders to organize the same kind of campaigns in Tennessee he organized in Newburgh to eliminate waste and theft, no matter whether funds are supplied by local, state or federal treasuries.

The courage displayed by the New York community of 30,000 population appealed to the folks who conduct the Gallup Poll, and a "quickie" survey of public opinion was taken last week in time for results to be published in Sunday newspapers.

Of more than 2,000 questionnaires returned in this small sampling of public opinion results are astounding. As high as 75% of those replying to the questions on the elimination of "free-loading" aid to mothers of children born out of wedlock, and fraudulent unemployment payments, favor prompt and complete purging of welfare rolls. And the most surprising thing about the poll is that those in the lowest income group are more in favor of putting an end to it than any other group.

We have been saying in this column ever since the first New Deal Administration in the early thirties that there is far more politics in welfare of all sorts than there is in actual relief provided those who need it. We say now that a third of bar tax payments in practically all welfare bureaus operated by the government is being stolen, or wasted, and that practically no effort is being made by administrators to prevent it.

The Gallup poll is the most promising development yet. We can't understand why it has been so long delayed, or why a little community like Newburgh had to secede from the Welfare State before any effort was made to find out how workers feel about the administration of the various programs they are being taxed to support on the theory their money is being saved for their benefit.

And since the tide seems to be at last turning we might suggest that the Gallup poll make an effort to find out how men and women over 65 feel about the multi-billion-dollar social security pension program the New Deal set up for their benefit twenty-five years ago. Are they pleased with a system that pays as little as $33.00 per month for them to live on while some un-wed mothers are getting over two hundred dollars a month to support children born out of wedlock?

Are lonely men and women without homes pleased to have poor farms developed into nursing homes where they may spend their declining days? How many prefer to be in any sort of an institution in preference to living with relatives or loved ones, or even in hotels and boarding houses?

We have found out one thing about "old folks" and that is that they do not seek companionship of other old folks only, regardless of modern conveniences, nursing care, proper diet and miracle drugs that prolong their lives.

Old folks who have always lived on the farm had rather stay on the farm. Those who have always lived within walking distance of the Court Square prefer living in town no matter how nice it is in the country now that we have central heating, air-conditioning, bathing facilities and modern nursing care.

Politicians of this century learned a great deal to their own political advantage from the New Deal. They learned how to get votes from almost any age or minority group. The Depression convinced many Americans, including some of our greatest educators and economists, that capitalism had failed and that European Socialism offered working folks and old folks more than individual thrift as only Americans practice it.

We are thankful that our people are more intelligent than Europeans. It took us a long time, and cost us untold billions of dollars in waste, to say nothing of the sacrifice of hundreds of thousands of lives in useless wars, for us to learn the difference between Socialism and Christian Capitalism, but there is no mistaking the meaning of the conservative wave that started in Texas and is now rapidly spreading throughout the nation.

AT THE 45 LEVEL—The New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle (left) and Roger Maris congratulate each other on their 45 home runs apiece. They're both far ahead of Babe Ruth's pace in 1927 when he hit the record 60.

L.A. Shut Out In Doubleheader

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press International

One beanball! That's all it took to push the seething Cincinnati Reds a little too far and make them keep their vow that they'd mop up the Dodgers and retake first place.

The angry Reds kept their word, moving a full game in front in the National League Wednesday night by sweeping a two-night doubleheader, 6-0 and 5-0, before a rather dejected crowd of 72,140 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

It was the first time the Dodgers had been shut out in both ends of a doubleheader since July 28, 1955, and the first time they had been blanked in consecutive games since 1949.

Although Bob Purkey fired a four-hitter at the Dodgers in the opener, and Jim O'Toole came right back with a two-hitter in the nightcap, the two Cincinnati triumphs pivoted around an incident that occurred during the seventh inning of the opener.

Bad Blood
Even before this latest series began, there had been bad blood between the two teams over the fact the Reds felt Dodger pitchers thrown at Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson earlier in the year.

Then in the seventh inning of the first game Wednesday night, with the Reds ahead by six runs, Stan Williams hit Pinson on the back of the head with a pitch. Pinson didn't move for several minutes but finally was able to walk off the field.

In their clubhouse between games, the Reds did some talking about making things right.

They made good their promise here, too. Gene Freese was the chief contributor, driving in four runs with a pair of homers off southpaw Johnny Podres. The homers were Freese's 21st and 22nd. Catcher Darrell Johnson, who joined the Reds only 24 hours before, also homered to help O'Toole gain his 12th victory.

The two victories by the Reds made it three in a row over the Dodgers and extended a Cincy winning streak to four games.

Robinson Also Hit
Purkey, given a six-run lead in the first three innings of the opener, struck out seven and didn't walk a man as he won his 14th against seven losses. Robinson, who had been hit on the hand by one of loser Larry Sherry's pitches in the first inning, hit his 34th homer with one on in the third.

Warren Spahn surpassed Lefty Grove's 300-win total by winning his 301st while pitching Milwaukee to a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh, the long gone Philadelphia Phillies tied a NL record by losing their 19th straight in a 9-5 setback at the hands of the Chicago Cubs, and San Francisco downed St. Louis, 4-3, in other NL games.

In the American League, where Babe Ruth's record is over-shadowing the pennant race, Roger Maris socked Nos. 47 and 48 and moved 16 games ahead of Ruth's record pace in a 5-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox that stretched the New York Yankees' lead to three games.

The Baltimore Orioles turned back the Detroit Tigers, 8-2, Cleveland beat Boston, 6-4, Kansas City crushed Minnesota, 12-7, and the Washington Senators defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 3-2.

Yields 10 Hits
Spahn, now 13-12 for the season, yielded 10 hits to the Pirates and actually was out-pitched by loser, Bob Friend (12-14), who allowed only four hits during the six innings he worked. Frank Thomas homered with the bases empty in the third and Eddie Mathews doubled in the third to score Mack Jones with what proved to be the winning run.

The Cubs showed no mercy for the Phillies. They hopped on loser Chris Short for four runs in the second inning and then on Dallas Green for three more in the sixth, making it easy for Don Cardwell to win his 10th even though he gave up 13 hits.

The last NL club to lose 19 in a row was the Reds in 1914. Should the Phils drop their 20th straight tonight at Milwaukee, they'll tie the major league mark.

Two-run homers by Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou carried the Giants to their victory over the Cardinals. Cepeda's was his 32nd and Alou's his 13th, both blows coming off Ray Sadecki. Jack Sanford pitched a seven-hitter for his ninth victory. Stan Musial hit a two-run homer for the Cards.

Hit By Pitch
The Yankees won their game with the White Sox in the ninth when pinch-hitter Bob Cerv was hit by a pitch with the bases full. Hacker hit Cerv but the loser was Turk Lown, who loaded 'em up.

Maris hit his first homer of the game in the first inning and his second in the third. Both blows, off Billy Pierce, came with one on. Jim Landis also hit a pair, his 14th loss.

for the White Sox. Reliever Ralph Terry blanked Chicago on two hits over the last four innings to make his record 9-1.

Milt Pappas' two-hit pitching along with homers by Jackie Brandt, Brooks Robinson and Jim Gentile were more than enough to give the Orioles their win over the Tigers. Jim Bunning, the loser, yielded Baltimore's first five runs.

Jerry Lumpe and Deron Johnson drove in seven runs between them as the A's trampled the Twins. Lumpe accounted for four runs with a double and a single while Johnson had three R.B.I.'s with a homer, double and single. Winner Norm Bass helped himself with a home run. Harmon Killebrew hit his 36th and Bob Allison his 26th but it wasn't enough to keep Pedro Ramos from absorbing against nine victories.

Jim Romano's 14th homer, loser Tracy Stallard in the ninth inning proved to be the winning run for the Indians. The Red Sox jumped to a three-run lead on winner Jim Perry (9-10) but a three-run triple by Tito Francona featured a four-run rally that put the Tribe in front to stay in the fifth.

Dick Donovan won his straight for the Senators with a four-hitter over the Angels. Donovan, who lost his first five games of the season but now owns a 9-4 record, had a no-hitter Wednesday night until the sixth. Throwing errors by Eddie Yost and Bill Pearson enabled the Senators to score two runs in the fifth and hand Ken McBride his 10th against nine victories.

Romano's 19th homer off Tracy Stallard in the sixth proved to be the winning hit for the Indians. The Red Sox led to a three-run lead off Jim Perry (9-10) but a double by Tito Francona and a four-run rally that put the Indians in front to stay in the game.

Aid For Acne Sufferers Is Developed

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — In regard to acne vulgaris, that surface affliction of the human face which blights the lives of so many of the young, there are two happy developments.

One is that sugar in the diet does not make acne any worse. Doctors for generations have made life even tougher for acne sufferers by telling them to leave sweets strictly alone.

The other is that the scientifically believed "double-blind" test shows an antibiotic swallowed daily in a small dose will help most cases of acne, and without the aid of diet or fancy skin-washings.

The common ban on sweets has been under scientific suspicion for a long time because it rarely seemed to do anything. Drs. Theodore Cornbleet and Irma Gigli of the University of Illinois, Chicago, bolstered the suspicion with facts.

They "loaded" the body chemistry of adolescents with sugar dissolved in orange juice, and measured their chemical tolerance or lack of it. One half of the subjects had florid cases of acne and one half were clean-skinned. Neither half was less or more tolerant than the other.

Take Sugar Test
Going on from there, they divided 52 acne patients into two equal groups. One half was required to get the sugar out of their diets. The other half took sugar in whatever form and amount they pleased. All were then treated identically for acne and there were no differences in results.

In reporting to a technical organ of the American Medical Association, they guessed that the ban on sweets got started only because "adolescents have acne and at the same time are large consumers of sweets. It could do no harm to limit the use of sugar," and so sweets were prohibiting chemically inert pills.

They were highly skeptical of other food prohibitions for acne. Neither doctor nor patient nor fats in general. They said doctors could know which patients with questionable approaches such patients got the do-nothing pills.

— diet — until — more — solid — evidence — This went on for months. The ence of their effectiveness is patients were not put on diets and were told that plain face-washing with soap and water once a day was enough. Meanwhile, Wansker created them by following "a long standing surgical maxim which is often sadly neglected in acne."

he opened the cysts and abscesses so they would drain.

The study took in 91 acne sufferers. Of the 74 who took an antibiotic daily, 54 were greatly benefited. Of the 17 who took inert pills, 5 did just as well but the other 12 did much less well. Wansker considered the surgery the principal treatment and the antibiotics an aid.

IN CASE OF FIRE

At Home—Get everybody out of the house quickly. Call the fire department at once.

(Every member of your family should know how to call the fire department.)

At Public Gatherings—Walk, do not run, to the nearest exit. Summon the fire department from the nearest fire alarm box or telephone. Keep calm.

Remember, the danger of being crushed in a milling crowd at an exit can be almost as dangerous as fire itself.

Act quickly, but with a clear head.

Campaign To Stamp Out Music Fails

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — During the course of a cross-country trip last month, I made a sort of grassroots survey of the status of folk music in various areas of the nation.

I wanted to see if any popular support was developing for a campaign to stamp out folk singing, which, it seemed to me, was getting out of hand, not to mention out of tune.

In all honesty, I must report that my campaign seems doomed to failure. Judging from what I heard on my car radio, folk singing is more prevalent, or virulent, than ever.

At one point, I ran across an album of folk songs commemorating events that never happened, such as one praising a Neville Chamberlain for his success in preventing World War II.

Age of Electronics
Another album that came to my attention contained futuristic folk songs, including one that mourned over the unrequited love of an electronic computer.

These things convinced me that I had failed to stimulate a mass uprising against folk singers. All that I stimulated was a mass uprising of folk singers against me. Very well. So be it. I'm not the type to brood over lost causes. In fact, adopting the old credo that "if you can't lick 'em, etc." I have decided to take up folk singing myself.

What is more, I am writing my own material. I have already finished one number, which ought to do for folk music what Liberace did for Chopin.

In the tradition of making folk music topical, I selected as the subject of my song a recent report issued by a House agriculture subcommittee. It bespoke the need for farmers to improve their public relations—and thus create a better "image" of themselves.

As I was reading the report, I began to have visions of some of the public relations men that I know venturing out into the rural areas to sign up farmers as clients. It was a relatively simple matter to incorporate these visions into a set of folk song lyrics, the first verse and chorus of which I offer for your inspection below.

Verse
"I dreamed I saw a P.R. man,
"Way down yonder in de corn field."
"A puzzled look upon his pan,
"Way down yonder in de corn field."
"Didn't know a shovel from a hoe,
"App that ain't all he didn't know."
"He thought that corn grew in a can,
"Way down yonder in de corn field."

Chorus
"Zoom-zoom-zoom, zoom-zoom-zoom,
"Zoom-zoom-zoom, and a hi ice ivy."
The title of my song is "The Ballad of the Blue Suede Brogans." It can be sung to any tune that happens to come to mind, preferably while someone is plunking a mandolin.

ern sector of Berlin.

The demonstrators, who gathered to protest the sealing of the East German border by the Communists to prevent refugees from escaping, carried placards saying "Betrayed by the West" and "We demand action."

A company of 100 British soldiers went to the Soviet memorial, near the Brandenburg Gate, at 4 a. m. and started putting up a barbed wire barrier four feet high.

"Demonstrations at the memorial could occur," said a British army spokesman. "We are putting up the barrier just to protect the memorial."

The action did not interfere with the Russian soldiers who guard the memorial day and night but rather placed a buffer between them and any crowds that might gather. A way was left open at the rear so they could enter and leave their guardhouse.

Risk Death
East Germans continued to risk death to escape the Communist regime.

Late Wednesday night a mother and son crashed through a barricaded checkpoint into West Berlin despite a hail of bullets from Communist guards.

A West Berlin police spokesman said only one of about 30 shots fired at the car hit it, and neither of the passengers was hit.

One counter measure taken by West Berlin went into effect today. The 15,000 West Berliners who work in East Berlin now are not permitted to change East marks into West German currency. Previously they had been allowed to get one West mark for one East mark instead of losing one to five on the free market.

The order was approved by the Western commandants at the request of Brandt.

UNFRIENDLY GREETING — When Jerry Rocklin, a Hollywood hair stylist, opened the door of his car, his own hair stood on end. For, growling and with fangs bared, was this ecotist. After a wildlife inspector had been called in, the animal was captured but no explanation was given for his presence. The ecotist will be kept in an animal shelter until someone comes to claim him.
